

Julie Slim is distinguished for bringing her multicultural and multilingual background to her music, reviving international standards from the early 20th century with her individual style, characterized with warm, precise vocals that mesmerize listeners, transporting them to a different time and place with the stories expressed in her songs.

Growing up in Beirut Lebanon, music has always been an essential part of Julie's life. Early on, Julie was exposed to Arabic, European and American pop, folk, classical and jazz music. An accomplished actress, Julie performs with her quintet, RendezVous, and as a soloist collaborator with renowned Austin world music bands. Her award winning covers and originals lift the spirits, touch the hearts and enlighten her audiences about different parts of the world.

Julie holds a Masters in Linguistics and a Level III certification in the Kodály Methodology of music education. Julie is a vocalist with the Austin Jazz Workshop, educating elementary students about jazz. Paying it forward, Julie volunteers with the Austin chapter of Threshold Choir at Austin Hospice Christopher House.

With her band RendezVous, Julie recently released their third full length CD, "Promenade Sentimentale", an emotional journey through the many faces of love. More recently, her song, Sarabande de Solitude, co-written with Shawn Ellison, won an Honorable Mention Award in the USA Songwriting Competition. Through music, Julie educates, brings together and uplifts, creating community wherever she performs.
